Committee To-Day—More
Police Indicted.

New York, October 21.—Chairman Lexow, of the Senate police investigating committee, intimated at the opening of to-day's session, that should Commissioner Sheehan show further recalcitrancy Mr. Goff would be likely to take him off the witness stand, and certify the matter to the grand jury. Commissioner Sheehan was accompanied into the investigation chamber by his brother, the Lieutenant-Governor. The commissioner had brought some books with him, concerning which he said: "Because I have a right to know what is in them, and I will tell what is in them unless I am accused of depositing money illegally; and then I will produce them."

"The man is a city-written slip, called Tammany Lexow, and he is a captain. Will you bear your name, please?"

"I swear I don't know anything about it."

"When a saloon-keeper wants a license do you force him to join Tammany Hall?"

"I ask him, but use no threats."

"You go before that exercise board in their interest?"

"No; I appointed an excise committee."

"That is interesting," broke in Chairman Lexow.

The witness attempted to amend his answer, but Chairman Lexow said sternly: "How could a political organization look after excise matters?"

Mr. Goff read an interview with Commissioner Loxton in which, several years ago, he laid stress on the extract in which Mr. Sheehan was purported to have said that the "blackmail payments" had been made by Tammany Hall. Mr. Goff asked Mr. Loxton if the "blackmail" was.

"To that extent," asked Mr. Goff, "the Commissioner wanted to explain. He would not answer positively."

"He was not permitted for contempt," exclaimed Mr. Goff.

"You'd better try it," he defiantly retorted to Mr. Loxton.

"You'll answer the questions as counsel want," Chairman Loxton said.

"I'll answer them in my own way," said the witness.

More Charges Against Policemen.

New York, October 21.—Superintendent Dykes has directed the police commissioners yesterday to make charges against all those policemen connected with the assault on the striking clock-makers at Ringer's square on October 18. The commissioners issued this order in the face of Inspector Williams's report to the effect that he had investigated the matter and found that only three of the rioters and their accomplices were on-street station, and several patrolmen. At the time the alleged assaults were committed the strikers were forming a parade, for which they had secured a permit.

For Wayne, October 31.—Never in the history of Allen county has there been such a heated political campaign as is now on. The Republicans have every assurance of electing their favorite candidates, and the Democrats are equally confident of success. The campaign is being conducted in a most unusual manner. The Republicans have been holding a series of meetings in the county house for the last ten days, and have discovered many cases of charging illegal and exorbitant fees in the clerk's office. Special to the Indianapolis News.

Lafayette, October 31.—John D. Gougar, husband of Indiana's famous temperance lecturer, Mrs. Helen M. Gougar, furnished one of those remarkable instances of memory loss under the observation of the medical world. Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gougar were on their way to the country to spend the day with a relative at a place called "The Farm." They were driving in their own horse-drawn carriage, which was being driven by a well-behaved man, when he suddenly began to kick and tear around, knocking away the dash-board of the vehicle. He was guided by the reins, and before he had done any harm to either of the occupants of the phaeton, though both were naturally very much excited. Another horse and rider came along, and the journey was continued. Mr. Gougar afterward became much prostrated by the nervous shock, and he has since been in the hospital, where he is now recovering. He Was Promoted by An Astonishing Burst of Speed.

Special to the Indianapolis News.

Lafayette, October 31.—Lon Hart, a negro, who is now running a stagecoach, gained his position through a very peculiar circumstance. Before and during the recent election he was placed along as brakeman at a salary of $20 a month, and was glad of the job. After the election there were numerous changes, and with them came a new conductor. That man, the second night out on his train, broke in two, and Hart was sent back to the engine. He was there only five minutes in which to signal, and on account of the fog, Hart knew he would have to go back a short distance. With his lantern on his arm, he dashed along until he met the approaching train. The engineer failed to heed the signal, and the result was a wreck. Hart was charged with having been dilatory in his duties as brakeman, but he was acquitted, and he has since been promoted to the position of conductor. He is now running a stagecoach, and he is now running a stagecoach.

While there has not been much running around, as in the case of the last campaign, it is not so much the case as in the case of the last campaign.

TO WELCOME THE FLOWERS

PREPARATIONS FOR THE EIGHTH CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

Cacti, Roses, Orchids, Carnations and Fruit Will Also Be Seen—Some of the Varieties To Be On Exhibition.

Preparations for the eighth annual chrysanthemum show are about completed, and from present indications it would seem that when on November 6 the show opens, in Tomlinson Hall, the public will have the privilege of seeing one of the best flower shows that Indianapolis has ever known. The program just issued has a cover embellished with a half-size engraving of the interior of the hall as it looked last year at the opening of the show. The reception committee, composed of William Langstaff, J. D. Carmody, J. S. Stuart, E. A. Parker, Barclay Walker, F. B. Alley, and W. H. Kelley, has made careful arrangements this year for the committee for the entertainment of the visiting florists. Carriages will be on hand at all times to take them to the different places of interest in the city, and a reception has been arranged at the local society's club room on Thursday evening. The Huntington Seed Company has arranged for a banquet to all their travellers throughout the State at the Commercial Club on Wednesday evening.

The premium list this year is far better than ever before. The managers of the flower show point with pride to the fact that since the opening show, eight years ago, there has never been a disputed prize. The Indianapolis Newspaper prize of $50 for the best forty-eight market plants will be awarded Tuesday evening. There, beside this, other prizes aggregating in value $1,000.

Some of the Chrysanthemums.
The culture of chrysanthemums has improved steadily since the show of a year ago. A new chrysanthemum, which is attracting much attention from growers, will be shown in great quantities at the exhibition. It is "Major Bonafon," a great yellow bloom that is almost a perfect sphere. Major Bonafon, of Philadelphia, offers a diamond pin for the best exhibit of the flower that bears his name. Among the choice chrysanthemums that will be exhibited during the show are the following: White—Domination, Mrs. Jerome Jones, W. G. Newett, Niveus, Jos. H. White and Flora Hill.
Yellow—Golden Wedding, Fascination, Challenge, Minerva, Mrs. Craig, Lippincott and Major Bonafon.
Red—Cullingford.
Many of these new ones are produced by Indiana hybridizers, and bear names that are familiar to Indiana people.
"James Fletcher," a new chrysanthemum of the hairy variety, that will be exhibited at the show, was brought from Japan about four years ago. Its popularity was so great that the Japanese growers have been sending over ever after variety, many of them inferior to the plants produced by the hybridizers of this country.
A special feature of the show this year will be a display of cacti. Many fine ones are promised, among which may be seen Anhalonium Williams, Mamillaria Pusilla, Opuntia Microserica, Echinocarpa resili, and Opuntia Laurida or Candle cactus. There will also be a specimen of the Echinocarpa.

Wednesday of the show will be the day for the seedling chrysanthemum. This has always been a contest of interest to those interested in growing, and this department will be larger this year than ever previously. The rules governing seedlings are very strict. Every seedling exhibited must have at least ten flowers and must be shown on long stems without any artificial support. No award will be made to any specimen unless it is an improvement over existing varieties.

Roses and Orchids.
Thursday will be the day for the rose. Exhibits have been promised from Chicago, Terre Haute, Louisville, Cincinnati and other cities. There will be American Brides, Belles, Metcours, Bridges, Bridesmaids, La France, Duches-sine, and many other fine varieties.
The orchid display this year promises to surpass that of previous exhibitions.
Wednesday will be the orchid's special day. The exhibit will be furnished and arranged by H. L. Sunderbruch, of Cincinnati, with the exception of the celebrated McFadden conservatories. There will be bromeliads or lobster orchids, orchids aurea, dendrobium, crassode, coddium incurvum, D. Wardman, scab-rallia macarabha, Vanda Coerulea and others. There will also be some nepenthes, with their long, narrow leaves, some species of the anthuriums, those curious, highly-colored flowers that were seen in the orchid display of last year.
Thursday there will be a unique display by the Polar Ice Company of this city. It will build a Swiss cottage eight feet high of different colored blocks of ice. Many of the outside blocks will freeze in the water in the center and the whole will be lighted from the interior by incandescent lights.
The music for the exhibition will be furnished by Zumpfe's orchestra, assisted by William Paris Chambers, a concertist from Chicago. Every evening there will be twelve numbers, two of which will be new.

The display of the Indiana Horticultural Society will be made in conjunction with the flowers. The exhibit of fruit will be arranged in the west corridor of the hall. There is a good premium list, prizes being offered for apples, peaches, quinces, grapes and persimmons. The business meetings of the Horticultural Society will be held in the agricultural rooms of the State House, and a number of papers will be read. On Thursday evening there will be a paper on "Parks and their Management," by H. H. Warder, superintendent of the city parks, Cincinnati, O.

Auction of the Flowers.
On Saturday, beginning at 9 a. m., there will be an auction of the flowers that have been on exhibition. Before the show many of the single chrysanthemum blooms bring $1 each, and some of the roses sell for as high a price. Last year at the auction large plants, with a dozen blooms, were sold for 50 cents and 80 cents, and many people were there to get their first start as chrysanthemum growers.

There will be some specimens of the Chinese Narcissus on exhibition. This is the sacred flower of China, as the chrysanthemum is the emblem of Japan. It is varieties of the flowers that they have brought over. Southern greens, Florida moss and large palms will give it a tropical appearance, and the musicians are to be partially hidden behind a bank of evergreens and flowers.

THEY ATE TOADSTOOLS.
Two Patrolmen Whose Judgment of Fungi Is Not Good.

When George Thomas, night patrolman, went off duty yesterday morning he stopped at the house of patrolman Duty, who stands during the day at Illinois and Washington streets. Both Thomas and Duty believe that they are epicures.

"Let's go and get some mushrooms," said Thomas. Duty agreed, and the two men set forth. It was not yet daybreak. They made their way to the place in the river bottoms where they believed that mushrooms grew. There they collected what they thought were mushrooms.

With mouths watering the two policemen trudged into town with their mushrooms, and ordered them cooked. After eating the mushrooms the two men had some trouble to decide to whether they had eaten mushrooms or toadstools.
Later developments showed that they had eaten toadstools.

Pictures of their past lives, such as are said to come to dying men, floated before the two policemen. But the administering of hot salt water saved them both. Thomas, however, was confined to his house all day yesterday. Duty did not report for morning roll-call, although he afterwards appeared at his post on the street. Many wondered why the big patrolman was twice his natural size and the mushrooms that were toadstools are the explanation.

SCHOOL FOR POOR CHILDREN.
Proposition Considered By Board of State Charities.

A State school for poor children was discussed at yesterday's meeting of the Board of State Charities. Many children are at present the inmates of county poor asylums, where they are exposed to degrading influence. The plan which the charity board is considering is to take these children from the poor-farms and from over-crowded orphan asylums, and to place them in a special school. From this institution the girls could be introduced to private families. The cost of the school, as proposed by the board of charities, would be $20,000 a year. The annual cost of keeping the State's dependent children now $200,000. Schools for poor children are already conducted in Rhode Island, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Building Reserves.
In all the business of life, reserves are necessary to safety. Banks must have reserves; life insurance companies must have reserves; loan associations must have reserves; the individual must have reserves. In the recent panic the entire community lost confidence in those banks whose reserves were invaded.

Have you given the question of building a reserve for yourself any attention?
It is not hard to build a reserve. Lay aside 10 cents each day (Sunday not included) and on the first day of each month invest it in the shares of the Monument Savings and Loan Association, and at the end of ten years it will pay you $200.

If you will call on or write to the secretary, at 27 Wright Block, Indianapolis, Ind., he will tell you how much surplus you will have in addition to this to add to your reserve.

The man who smokes two cigars daily (Sunday not included), saves 5 cents each, turns up what would in ten years enable the Monument Savings and Loan Association to pay him $200. Think about this and call on the secretary, at 27 Wright Block, Indianapolis, Ind., or if you are not in the city, write to him, and he will tell you how much surplus beside the $200 you would have.
